ICBC to provide Singapore companies with up to $10.2b funding for infrastructure projects across Asia

SINGAPORE - The Singapore branch of China's largest bank, ICBC, will extend up to RMB50 billion (S$10.2 billion) in funding to Singapore companies for infrastructure projects across Asia.

The move comes under an agreement signed on Monday (Sept 19) between the Singapore Business Federation (SBF) and the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China (ICBC), Singapore branch, to establish and develop long-term cooperation in line with China's "One Belt, One Road" (OBOR) initiative to invest in and develop trade routes in the region.

As the world's largest RMB (renminbi) bank and Singapore's sole RMB clearing bank, ICBC said it intends to provide up to RMB50 billion in financing services and project financing structure to support SBF member companies in OBOR infrastructure projects across Asia.

Both parties will also promote Small & Medium Enterprises (SMEs) collaboration and business matching between SBF member companies and ICBC Singapore customers through networking sessions and business missions.

The memorandum of understanding with SBF - and other agreements with Singapore Press Holdings, Singapore Exchange, Surbana Jurong and Sinochem International Corporation - were inked at an inaugural forum on infrastructure financing and cooperation under the OBOR initiative held on Monday morning (Sept 19) at the Four Seasons hotel.

Mr Liew Mun Leong, chairman of Surbana Jurong and Changi Airport Group said, "With this MOU, Surbana Jurong will partner ICBC to offer its global clientele a full suite of comprehensive financial and engineering expertise for major urban and infrastructure projects in the 'One Belt, One Road' region."

"Our expertise in urban planning, engineering, project management and facilities management services fully complement ICBC's financial related services."

Mr Yi Huiman, chairman of the board of directors and executive board of directors at ICBC, said that ICBC's Singapore branch has 20 Belt and Road projects in reserve that involve about US$3 billion of financing. He highlighted that it was the first Chinese financial institution to set up a team specializing in the bond market, promoting Singapore's RMB bond market development.

He said that going forward, ICBC wanted to strengthen cooperation in financing with an eye to infrastructure construction in Southeast Asia.

"We will provide enterprises with 'one-stop' financial services, including international settlement, global cash management, financial market transactions, investment banking and asset management, that reflect Singapore's market characteristics and build on ICBC Group's resources."

Mr Lim Hng Kiang, Minister for Trade and Industry (Trade), said that Singapore and Chinese companies share complementary strengths and can work together in third-country markets.

He cited the partnership of Singapore engineering company ISDN partnering with China Huadian Engineering, one of China's largest power and industrial players to develop mini-hydropower projects across Indonesia since 2014.

He urged more of such partnerships between Singapore and China.

Industrial and Commercial Bank of China gets SPH's help for new B2B platform

Industrial and Commercial Bank of China (ICBC) has partnered with Singapore Press Holdings (SPH) to develop a bilingual B2B e-commerce platform. This is to enhance cross-border trade between China and Southeast Asia.

The platform, which is in English and Chinese, is supported by International Enterprise (IE) Singapore. It will provide one-stop B2B services to business enterprises in China, Singapore and other Southeast Asian countries.

SPH will start a bilingual internet portal for enterprises from Southeast Asia and China to promote their products and services while tapping on the clients and services provided by the existing e-commerce platform or "e-mall" managed by ICBC.

The partnership will see SPH and ICBC maintaining strategic cooperation, consolidating resources and experiences in their respective industries. They will also consider the other party as their preferred partner for any business cooperation, financial related services and exhibitions.

SPH will recommend established enterprises to ICBC to cooperate in business developments in Singapore and other Southeast Asian countries while ICBC will create conditions to facilitate cross-border e-commerce and also more leads for Chinese enterprises who are keen to establish e-commerce marketplaces in Singapore.

Both parties will jointly carry out the promotion and publicity matters to enhance the value and position of the cross-border e-commerce platform.

According to a memorandum of understanding (MOU) that was signed, SPH and ICBC will jointly organise an annual exhibition on the Internet economy to attract the participation of enterprises in Singapore, Southeast Asia and China.

"In line with China's national strategy of globalising the renminbi (RMB), ICBC has also responded with an e-commerce strategy to promote cross-border trade. As such, ICBC, which is the sole RMB Clearing Bank in Singapore, believed in partnering SPH to develop an e-commerce platform to offer B2B services that will benefit enterprises in Singapore, Southeast Asia and China," Yi Huiman, chairman of ICBC, said.

"Riding on the fast-growing e-commerce industry, we hope to partner ICBC to build the first bilingual cross-border e-commerce platform in Southeast Asia that will help enterprises in the region expand market reach and promote growth in trade," Alan Chan, CEO of SPH, said.
