- 5.3 Your authorized signatories and your Authorized User have the authority set out in your written authorization provided by you to us. We treat all instructions from your Authorized User or your authorized signatories valid and from you until we receive written notification cancelling their authority to act on your behalf.
- 5.4 You may change your authorized signatories or signing arrangement by complying with our reasonable procedures.
- 5.5 An authority will not be revoked until we have received written notice revoking it, or written notice of your death or incapacity. It remains in force notwithstanding any change in your constitution.
- 5.6 We may (acting reasonably) regard your instructions as received by us as being what you intended to send. Any instruction that we reasonably believe is given by you or with your authority will be valid and binding on you, whether or not it is in fact authorized. We may require evidence of identity or authority. We may regard your instruction (which duplicates another instruction) as a separate instruction, unless we actually knew before execution that it was a duplicate. We are not obliged to act on any request to cancel, revoke, reverse or amend any instructions for payment or any other instructions after it has been transmitted by you to us.

- 5.9 An instruction may be partially executed if it cannot be fully executed. An instruction or part not executed by the day's close of business (or, if earlier, close of trading) will lapse, unless otherwise agreed.

- 6.1 "Password" refers to one or more means accepted by us to authenticate a user and to gain access to an account or service through one or more channels or means advised by us, and may include Access Device, personal identification pin number (PIN), letter, code, digital signature, debit card or other card, token, chop, seal, anything. Different passwords may be used by different users or for different channels.
- 6.2 Any instruction given with the use of your password is binding on you. This is so notwithstanding different requirements in your mandate or other arrangements. Changes in your authorized signatories or signing arrangement will not affect operation by your password. If the option is provided by us, a password for one channel may be used to apply for other services or channels, and any application is binding on you.
- 6.3 You will use all reasonable care to keep your password secret and secure. If not collected in person, your password will be sent to you at your risk. If permitted, you will immediately change a password assigned by us.
- 6.4 You will notify us as soon as reasonably practicable at the telephone number or by another method notified by us if you find or believe that your password has been compromised, lost or stolen or that any unauthorized Transactions have occurred. We may without liability take any action following receipt of a report reasonably believed by us to be genuine.
- 6.5 You will be liable for all losses if you have acted fraudulently or with gross negligence, or allowed a third party to use your password, or failed to comply with your obligations under Clause 6.3 or 6.4. You would not otherwise be responsible for any direct loss suffered by you as a result of unauthorized Transactions conducted through your account. This Clause does not apply (a) unless the unauthorized instruction was given electronically, (b) to you unless you are a private individual (excluding sole traders, partnerships, clubs and societies), or (c) to unauthorized Transactions conducted through plastic cards which may be used to pay for goods and services or to withdraw cash.

7. Payment / delivery

- 7.1 Payments will in ordinary course be debited to the Account designated by you for the purpose (including a sub Account maintained under an Account) which is denominated in the same currency. This also applies to "holds" on funds in your Accounts. We will determine whether you have a sufficient balance or overdraft by reference to your designated account (or sub account) in the payment currency. However we may put a "hold" on amounts in other currencies. If necessary, we may (but are not obliged to) convert an amount received or to be paid from one currency into another at our spot rate. We may, for the purpose of a calculation, notionally convert an amount from one currency into another at our spot rate.

- 7.2 Payments will be made to you subject to applicable laws and regulations and any required deduction or withholding (including taxes of any kind applicable to you or to us).
- 7.3 You will pay us in freely transferable and cleared funds and in the manner reasonably notified by us. Deliveries of any property by either party will be made in the manner reasonably notified by us.
- 7.4 If on any date amounts would be payable in the same currency under 2 or more transactions by each party, then on such date, each party's obligation to pay such amounts will, at our option, be discharged, and the party by whom the larger amount would otherwise be payable will pay to the other party the excess of such amount over the smaller amount.
- 7.5 You will on demand repay to us all sums owing by you if no due date has been agreed.
- 7.6 Your payments will be made without condition and free of all taxes, withholdings or deductions. If any withholding or deduction is required by law, you will pay an increased amount so that we receive a net amount equal to what we would have received had there been no withholding or deduction. You will duly pay the tax authority and send us the evidence.
- 7.7 Your payments will be made in the currency of the liability. A sum received by us in another currency only constitutes a discharge to you to the extent of the net amount of the currency of your liability which we would be able to purchase with the amount received when it is practicable to do so. You will, as a separate obligation and notwithstanding any judgment, indemnify us against any reasonable loss and expense. It will be sufficient to show that we would have suffered a loss had an actual exchange or purchase been made.
- 7.8 We may apply any sum received to reduce your liability in the order we reasonably select, or place it in a suspense account to preserve our right to prove for your entire liability.
- 7.9 A sum or an item received for your account may not be drawn against or used and does not earn interest until we have unconditionally received cleared funds. We may debit your account with all reasonable losses and expenses, if the sum or item or part thereof is not actually received. You will bear the loss arising from any difference in exchange rates between the date of crediting your account and the date (if we act reasonably) of the subsequent debit.
- 7.10 If not collected in person, your property and documents will be sent to you according to your last address with our records and at your risk.

- 7.11 We may recover from you any erroneous payment and this include debiting from your any of your Account with us for it. By using our Services, you authorize us to debit your Account for this purpose.
- 7.12 In accordance with market practice, we may retain interest on amounts to be paid to you pending credit to your account, and on amounts to be paid on your behalf pending payment.
- 7.13 Any payment, delivery or determination, which would otherwise fall to be made on a non-Business Day, will instead be made on our next Business Day, unless otherwise agreed.
- 7.14 Cash will be paid to you after rounding down to the nearest ten cents (or, for other foreign currency, to the nearest unit in accordance with market practice). This constitutes full payment.
- 7.15 Unless otherwise agreed, any amount or item to be paid or delivered by us will only be paid or delivered in Singapore at our office at which the account is kept.
- 7.16 Unless we agree otherwise, we will only make payments or transfers instructed by you if you have sufficient funds in your account and it is your responsibility to ensure that your account is funded at all times before completing any Transactions.
- 7.17 If you subscribe for any funds transfer services between banks or automatic payment to any billing organizations, it is your responsibility to ensure that you give all the correct information to all parties involved in order for the Transaction to be completed. We are not obliged to verify the accuracy of any information provided by you to anyone for this purpose (including the account numbers or the identity of the account holders).
- 7.18 In the event that there is any residual amount, due to the difference in Net Asset Value of the investment at the time of purchase, remaining in the Bank's settlement account after the Transaction has been performed, you agree to forfeit the said residual amount and that the Bank shall be entitled to deal with the residual amount in any manner as it deems fit at its absolute discretion.

8. Fees, Charges and overdue interest

- 8.1 We may levy reasonable fees and charges (this includes situation where your account is below a certain minimum balance required by us), and (acting reasonably) change them from time to time after reasonable notice to you. You authorize us to debit your account (even if this may result your account to be in overdraft or situation where your Account is dormant) to settle such fees and charges payable by you. The pricing guide for our fees and charges is available on request.

8.2 You will, at the agreed time or on demand, pay our fees and charges, and all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses including sums payable in respect of your securities, amounts we paid on your behalf together with interest thereon at our interest rate for unarranged overdraft, our agents' fees and expenses, the fees and levies of exchanges, clearing houses, registrars and regulatory authorities, and taxes. If you failed to do so, you authorize us to debit these from your account.

8.3 Paid fees and charges are not refundable.

8.4 Interest accrues on all sums payable by you from the due date or, if earlier, the date we paid the sum on your behalf or to you to the date of actual repayment (before and after judgment) which may fall on a non-Business Day. Interest is payable on demand, and is calculated at our interest rate for unarranged overdraft, for the actual number of days divided by 360 or 365 according to our practice for the relevant currency, and will be compounded in the manner reasonably determined by us.

9. Statements of account / confirmations

9.1 We will provide you with monthly or other periodic statements of your account, if so agreed or if it is a Securities account, unless a statement is not required under applicable regulation, such as, if there is no transaction in your account and the account balance is nil. You will notify us if you do not receive a statement.

9.2 You undertake to examine each statement of account or confirmation of a Transaction carefully following receipt. If you discover any error or unauthorized Transaction, you will notify us within 14 days of receipt of the statement or within the period agreed or reasonably specified in the confirmation. In the absence of your notification within that period, all entries in the statement or confirmation will become conclusive and binding on you, except for manifest error.

4.4 We do not act for the manager of any Securities or other persons. They may reject your application. You accept the dealing and other procedures that we agree with the manager.

4.5 Unless otherwise agreed in writing or we are already holding sufficient cash or Securities in your account, you will pay us cleared funds or deliver to us Securities in deliverable form, by noon on the business day on which your instruction is given, or by the time we notify you, to enable us to settle each Transaction. we may (but are not obliged to) take action to collect Securities or money due to you. We need not inform you if any payment becomes due or overdue or if any action is required in respect of your Securities. If not collected in person, delivery of Securities to you will be at your risks.

- 4.7 You will as required designate one or more accounts as settlement accounts. Your authorised signatories for your Securities account or settlement account may operate both accounts.
- 4.8 Acting reasonably, we may sell your Securities or any part of it to raise any amounts for the purposes of our services.
- 4.9 If you are not the ultimate beneficiary or the person ultimately responsible for originating an instruction in relation to Securities listed or traded on the, or derivatives, including over-the-counter derivatives, written over such Securities:

 - (b) your agreement in (a) above will survive termination of our services; and
 - (c) if a beneficiary or person originating an instruction is located outside Singapore, you confirm that these provisions are binding under the relevant foreign law.

- 4.11 You confirm that all your sell orders in respect of Securities at or through SGX will be "long" sales, unless you notify us at the time of placing a sell order that it relates to Securities which you do not own but have a right to obtain, i.e. involves short selling, and at the same time provide us with the requisite assurance that the sale is "covered".

5. General Risk Disclosure

This risk disclosure gives an overview of the risks relating and arising from any Transaction or Investment, it does not purport to discuss ALL risks involved. You acknowledge and understand that it is your sole responsibility to determine the suitability of a Transaction or product before entering into any Investment or purchase in light of your financial resources, experience, objectives, ability to bear risks and other relevant circumstances. You should seek the advice of your own legal and financial advisers before making a commitment to purchase or enter into a particular Transaction.

5.1 Market Forces and Related Risks

- (a) Any Investment or Transaction dependant on the changes in particular financial markets will expose you to price, currency exchange, interest rate or other volatility in that market. You acknowledge that such market movements cannot be predicted accurately, and may result in substantial losses to your Investment or Transaction if the market conditions move against you. You further acknowledge that you are solely liable for any loss resulting from you liquidating your position when the market conditions are against you.
- (b) Prices of over-the-counter Transactions are individually negotiated. As there is no central market, there may be inefficiencies in pricing, thus we do not warrant that the prices secured for you are the best price available. Further as these Transactions are individually negotiated, you may only unwind the Transaction with the consent of the counterparty. Regardless of the outcome of any over-the-counter Transactions performed by you, we may make a profit.
- (c) Contingent orders such as “stop-loss or “stop-limit” orders which are intended to limit your losses to certain amounts may not necessarily limit your loss to the intended amounts. You agree to bear all risks arising from the execution of contingent orders and hereby release us from all such liability arising thereof. You further authorize us to execute any such orders and in such manner as we may deem appropriate.
- (d) You should be aware that there is a general risk of market failure or collapse which may arise from an adverse political or financial development, sharp price movements, volatile market conditions and strained market liquidity.

- (e) You should also know that certain market conditions may make it impossible or difficult to liquidate your position, assess a fair price or assess risk exposure.

5.2 Securities Trading

Prices of Securities fluctuate and may become valueless in certain circumstances. You should not engage in trading unless you fully understand the nature of the Transaction and extent of your exposure to loss as there is an inherent risk of losses.

5.3 Exchange Traded Instruments

Investments or Transactions involving underlying contracts or instruments which are traded on the Exchange are subject to market conditions or the exchange and the operations of the rules of such Exchange that may result in a higher risk of loss by making it difficult to liquidate or offset a position. You should be aware that specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may also be modified by the Exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the Underlying interest.

5.4 Investments/ Transactions in other Jurisdictions

Investments or Transactions on other transactions other than your own home jurisdiction may expose you to additional risks. All markets are subject to different regulations and investor protection. Before trading in another jurisdiction, you are encouraged to enquire about any relevant rule or regulations particular to your Investment or Transaction.

5.5 Leveraged Transactions/ Margin Trading

- (a) Leveraging may be undertaken by way of a loan or utilizing margin trading facilities. High degree of leveraging resulting from a small margin requirement in respect to any Investment or Transaction can work against you in market fluctuations, and you acknowledge that the use of such leveraging can result in losses in excess of your initial investment.
- (b) By undertaking an Investment using margin trading facilities, you acknowledge and agree that:
 - (i) You must ensure sufficient margin in respect of any approved limit. The required amount will vary depending on the Investment or Transaction undertaken by you. The margin will be determined solely at our discretion, and may change from time to time. We will exercise our discretion in determining the value of your Assets and if they are acceptable as margin.
 - (ii) The risk of loss in financing an Investment through the use of margin trading facilities is significant. You may sustain losses due to the excess margin deposited with us for a relatively small market movement.
 - (iii) Any market movement may cause you to sustain a total loss of total initial margin. You may also incur further liability when you have to deposit additional margin to maintain your position.
- (b) Subject to the relevant terms of the facilities, in the event that the value of the margin deposited with us is insufficient to support your exposure in all or any Investment or

Transaction, we may call on you to provide us with additional deposit or any other forms of security acceptable to us at short notice in order to maintain your margin. If you fail to comply, we reserve the right to deal with or liquidate your Assets or Investments or Transaction without further notice to you at a loss and you will be liable for the deficit. The cost of liquidation shall be considered as part of the outstanding due to us and be deductible from the liquidation proceeds.

5.6 Counterparty Risk and Credit Risk

- (a) If we are your counterparty in an Investment or Transaction, you understand that we act in our own self-interest and do not owe you a fiduciary obligation in that regard. Any dealings or Transactions with us by you could result in a loss to you and a gain to us, and we are not obliged to account to you for the gain incurred.
- (b) We do not offer you any advice and will only stand on the written representations given in our agreements in furtherance of these Investments or Transactions.
- (c) We may not always be the contractual counterparty. Prior to entering or committing to an Investment or Transaction, you should account for all risks associated in the third party issuer or third party counterparty.
- (d) An Investment or Transaction entered into on your behalf with any counterparty is subject to the prevailing terms and conditions stipulated by the other counterparty. In such situations, the performance, settlement and delivery is dependent on the counterparty. As such, you are exposed to risk of counterparty default (i.e. the counterparty becoming insolvent). This may result in losses due to positions being closed out without reference to you, or total loss including any Assets which you may have deposited as security.

5.7 Transaction Costs and Tax

- (a) You acknowledge that there may be commissions, fees and other charges which you will be liable for. You should enquire into all such relevant commissions, fees and charges that may apply to the Investment or Transaction to understand the net returns from the Investment or Transaction.
- (b) You should be aware that any interest payable by you under the Credit Facilities, foreign exchange risks and any negative gearing are variables that could add to the risk of your Investment or Transaction.

5.8 Liquidity and Marketability Risks

You should be aware that certain market conditions may make it difficult for you to liquidate your position, or assess the value or determine a fair price of an Investment. Certain Securities and money market instruments may not be readily realizable, there is no certainty that they may be dealt with.

Liquidity risks are lower for near term Investments and risks will increase the longer the maturity period is. Erosion of liquidity could arise in sharp price movements and volatile market conditions. Due to structure complexity, it may be difficult to reverse certain Transactions.

5.9 Currency Risks

Foreign currency rates fluctuate from time to time, and may impact upon financial Investments denominated in a different currency from the currency where you carry out your Transactions or accounts. If you trade in a foreign jurisdiction, you should account for the applicable tax and exchange controls to determine the net value of your Investment or Transaction.

5.10 Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate fluctuations may adversely impact the value of certain Investments such as bonds or money market instruments.

5.11 Non-transferability and Non-marketability

Generally an Investment or Transaction cannot be assigned or transferred without the consent of the counterparty. If your Investments or Transactions are customised, engaging in a Transaction with another dealer to offset a Transaction you have entered into with us, whether on your behalf or otherwise, will not automatically close out those positions and will not necessarily function as a perfect hedge and may increase the risk to you. It may also be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, assess the value thereof, determine a fair price or assess the exposure to risk.

6. Specific Investment Risk

6.1 Fixed Income Investment

- (a) You risk the issuer or the counterparty not honouring its obligations to pay the principal of interest thereby causing a loss to you. You should supplement any published ratings of any issuer with your own independent analysis of the credit risks of the issuer as the ratings could change due to financial conditions.
- (b) You are exposed to liquidity risks as you may not be able to sell the fixed income instrument at the desired time or price. Any market for such instruments may be at a loss due to a substantial difference between the offer and purchase price of the fixed income instrument.
- (c) Interest rate fluctuations will cause the value of the fixed income instruments to fluctuate. The degree of sensitivity to interest rate fluctuations depends on the maturity, coupon and call provisions of the instrument. Floating rate fixed income instruments are of a lower risk as the interest rate moves up and down with the rest of the market.
- (d) You should be aware that your exposure will be affected where the issuer of the instrument has the right to redeem the instrument before maturity.

6.2 Structured Products

- (a) Structured products are pre-packaged investments based on derivatives (i.e. combining one or more derivatives). The net outcome of structured products depends on the performance of the underlying financial instrument or Assets. The slightest movement in the market could affect the outcome resulting in losses amounting to the entire investment. You should seek independent advice as to the risks involved as the structure of these products may be extremely complicated with its own risk profile.
- (b) As a buyer of structured products, only you can assert your right against the issuer. Default by the issuer could result in a total loss, thus you should satisfy yourself with the possibility of the issuer defaulting.
- (c) Products executed over-the-counter may be difficult to liquidate, assess the value or assess your exposure to risks under such Investment or Transactions. You should carefully consider the uncertainty in determining its impact on your Investment or Transaction.
- (d) Forecasts and past performances of structured products and its Underlying are only for illustration of possible returns and should not be relied on as a necessary indicative of future performances.

6.3 Structured Deposits

Structured deposits are a combination of a deposit and an investment product where the returns depend on the performance of the underlying financial instrument. Prior to committing to a structured deposit you should understand the relevant terms and conditions attached and the risks associated to ensure that the product is suitable to your investment needs and financial situation. Structure deposits are generally held for a longer tenor and the principal amount of a structured deposit may not be withdrawn, partially or in full, prior to its maturity. You should ensure sufficient liquidity to hold each structured deposit to maturity. If the structured deposit is terminated before maturity, unless otherwise agreed by us, you will lose out on the interest as the interest rate is reverted to the current interest rate, and an early termination fee may be imposed by us and be deducted from the return payable to you.

6.4 Currency Linked Investment

- (a) Currency Linked Investments are deposits which you put with us as the deposit taking institution, and confer upon us the right to repay the principal amount and the interest accrued thereon in either the base currency or an alternate currency. If you choose to enter into such an Investment, you acknowledge that you risk receiving the returns in an alternate currency at a pre-agreed exchange rate which might result in you receiving less than the principal amount initially invested when converted back to base currency.
- (b) The principal amount cannot be withdrawn, partially or in whole, prior to its maturity. Unless otherwise agreed by us, early termination will result in a loss on the interest as the interest rate is reverted to the current interest rate, and we will be entitled to impose an early termination fee and deduct such fees from the returns payable to you.
- (c) We reserve the right to terminate the account before maturity in the even that the imposition of exchange control restrictions, devaluations, redenomination or demonetization of either the base currency or the alternate currency. We do not guarantee that you will receive a return of the principal amount.

6.5 Unit Trust

A unit trust is a pool of money managed collectively by a fund manager who invests in a portfolio of Assets to achieve certain investment objectives. Such arrangements are subject to the usual investment risks. Past performance only illustrative of the possible benefits and cannot be seen as an indicative future performance. Any forecasts or opinions provided are subject to change in the financial market and should not be taken as a guarantee of likely performance.

6.6 Exchange Traded Funds (“ETF”)

- (a) ETFs are open-ended investment funds listed and traded on a stock exchange. Your main investment risk is the performance of the ETF’s Underlying shares and other Assets. ETFs are not principal protected, you must be prepared to lose your original investment. You should be aware of the liquidity and market risks of the Securities that the ETF holds, substantial losses may be incurred if the fund is unable to dispose of its holdings of any affected Securities.
- (b) You should be aware that most ETFs are not actively managed. Price fluctuations relating to its Underlying could adversely affect the price performance of an ETF.
- (c) ETFs are complex funds, you should be aware of the strategy adopted by the fund manager. Implementation of these strategies may not always produce the intended results. You must be prepared to bear the risk of loss and volatility associated with the Underlying. The value of an ETF may also decline when the counterparty with whom the ETF purchases financial instruments from, or enter into agreements with becomes insolvent or otherwise fails to perform their obligations for any reason.

6.7 Non-traditional Funds

- (a) Non-traditional funds are subject to varying risks. Examples of non-traditional funds are such as hedge funds, alternative investment funds and offshore funds.
- (b) The value of the Investments is subject to the usual risks including adverse international political, economic and other adverse developments. A small movement in the market can lead to a major loss or gain. Additionally, these funds are subject to unique-strategy specific risks. You should carefully consider the fund’s investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing, and seek independent financial advice before committing to the investment.
- (c) You should be aware that non-traditional funds may not be easily liquidated, and be prepared that your Investment may be locked-in for a long period of time. Certain funds may provide for powers to compulsory acquisition of all or any portion of your holdings thereby resulting in the proceeds being substantially lesser than the amount invested in the fund.

6.8 Private Equity Investments

Private Equity Investments are funds invested into a private company. It generally involves the contribution of substantial amounts into a private company for a long period of time. Once you have committed to invest, you must be ready to meet the calls for contribution on short notice. The penalty for failing to meet the commitment may result in a complete forfeiture of any monies already invested. Capital invested may not be easily liquidated as there is no recognized market for such investments to be sold. Even if it can be realized, you may not generate returns higher than the capital invested. You should be aware that your investment may be a total loss if the company winds up or is declared insolvent or if any commercial interest in the business ceases to exist.

7 Custody

- 7.1 You appoint us as or our agent as your custodian to hold all Securities acquired by us on your behalf. We will arrange for your Securities to be registered or held in safe custody in accordance with Applicable Laws including, at our option, registration of registered Securities in our nominee's name. Your Securities held by us will be recorded in your Securities account.
- 7.2 We may reject any Securities for safe custody and (acting reasonably) require any Securities to be withdrawn from our custody.
- 7.3 Your Securities will be treated as fungible and held as part of a larger holding of identical Securities held for our customers. - 7.4 We may deposit any eligible Securities into a clearing system where transfers are made electronically or by book entries. Your Securities may be held overseas by a third party.
- 7.5 We are not required to attend meetings of holders of any Securities or exercise any rights unless otherwise agreed with you in writing.

You will collect any certificates or documents from the place we reasonably specify.
- 7.7 Securities may not be withdrawn in a physical form, e.g., if they are in the form of a global certificate or in book-entry form.

These Investment Terms apply, to the extent possible, to Transactions on your behalf as well as with us.

- (a) have a position in relation to the Securities or be involved as issuer, manager, custodian, trustee or otherwise; or
 - (b) match your order with those of other customers.

11.2 If we have an actual or potential conflict of interest in relation to a Transaction, we will not act unless we have disclosed that conflict to you and have taken all reasonable steps to treat you fairly.

11.3 We may have existing or future commercial or banking relationships with any person involved in the issue or management of any Securities or their affiliates, and will pursue actions which we deem appropriate to protect our interests, without obligation to disclose or account to you, and regardless of whether such action might adversely affect you.

12. Transacting as principal

12.1 We may as principal enter into Transactions (in Clause 12, each a "Transaction") with you, each of which is evidenced by a confirmation ("Confirmation") issued by us and expressed to be subject to these Investment Terms and the respective Investment product terms. All capitalized terms used bear the meaning ascribed in the Confirmation unless otherwise stated.

12.2 In the event of inconsistency, the terms of one document will prevail over the other(s) in the following order for the purpose of the relevant Transaction: (1) the Confirmation, (2) the applicable schedules, if any and (3) these Investment and Conditions.

12.3 A contract between you and us for the sale or purchase of Securities is made as soon as its terms have been confirmed orally by our authorised officer or in writing signed by our authorised officer. The terms of an oral contract will be as set out in our written Confirmation.

12.4 All Transactions constitute a single agreement between the parties ("Agreement"). The parties will only enter into Transactions in reliance on such fact.

12.5 The parties will make payments and deliveries in accordance with each Confirmation, subject to the condition precedent that no Event of Default (see Clause 13) or Potential Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.

12.6 You will fully perform your obligations before requiring us to perform.
