

Industrial and Commercial Bank of China Zurich Branch (ICBC Zurich Branch) provides a wide variety of services and products for corporate clients and Financial Institutions, including deposits, loans, remittance, trade finance, investment in securities, FX trading, clearing services and RMB business. As ICBC Zurich branch we are able to provide Swiss investors who intend to invest in China with an extensive network and comprehensive services. We can also leverage on its significant Chinese client base built up over the past decades to provide the perfect gateway for Chinese companies looking to expand their business to Switzerland and vice versa. We strive to become a bridge connecting the Chinese and the Swiss economies, foster the trade cooperation between the two countries and contribute to the Sino-Swiss financial relationship.

IT System Engineer

ICBC Zurich Branch is looking for an IT System Engineer. This is a new position for a qualified and experienced person. After the branch has been in business for more than 4 years, the IT Department will be strengthened in order to support the growth of our business activities and number of staff.

Major Areas of Responsibility:

- First level technical support to end users, responding in a timely manner to service issues and requests
- Planning, coordination and execution of technical tasks on systems
- Collaboration on compliance issues (e.g. data security)
- Support and administration of business projects
- Work on server and network environments, backup and monitoring systems, as well as on device management.
- Consulting and support in implementing specific software

Qualifications:

- More than 2 years of work experience in IT sector
- Knowledge of hardware, server virtualisation, network, software and cyber security
- Knowledge of Windows Server, Linux, database, Windows 10 and MS Office
- Having an interest in following up on IT trends and technologies
- Understanding of Switzerland's banking regulation
- High motivation, commitment and ability to act independently
- Team player with excellent communication and presenting skills
- Fluency (both written and verbal) in English and German
- A sound educational background with a Bachelor's degree in computer science or a similar field would be an advantage.

ICBC Zurich Branch
Human Resources
Nüscherstrasse 1
8001 Zürich

hr@ch.icbc.com.cn