

Securities Purchase Ad-hoc Facility

Stock market changes rapidly, your decisiveness and ability to seize the opportunities of market volatility are critical in making a profitable trade. Nevertheless, opportunity may slip away due to insufficient fund in your investment account. ICBC (Asia) is pleased to introduce our new Securities Purchase Ad-hoc Facility. It allows you to grasp every investment opportunity for higher potential returns in the dynamic market.

Operation Mechanism of the Service:

In case of insufficient fund, we will calculate and provide the facility amount based on your securities portfolio margin value and execute your buy order without your separate submission of application. No interest will be charged if you deposit the total amount of used facility into your settlement account on or before the settlement day (T+2).

Service Target :

Customers with Securities Cash Account only.

Investment Products :

Applicable to HKEx listed securities which settled in HKD only, all derivative products such as warrants and callable bull/ bear contracts are not included.

Trading Channels :

Manned phone securities trading hotline or branches securities trading desk only.

Margin Ratio and Maximum Limit :

1. The calculation of "Securities Purchase Ad-hoc Facility" is based on customers' securities holding deposited in our Bank, according to our Bank share margin credit ratio. Share margin credit ratio may vary against different stock. For details, please contact our branch staff.
2. The maximum limit of the "Securities Purchase Ad-hoc Facility" within the settlement period is HK$ 5 million per customer.

Arrangement for Unsettled Amount :

1. The default interest rate (P+5%) shall be applicable on the unsettled amount (after T+2) according to the guidelines of the Code of Banking Practice in a 365-day year basis.
2. The bank may exercise the right to sell any of the securities and use the sale proceeds to settle any amount owing to the Bank if customers fail to repay the shortfall amount within 5 business days after the settlement day (T+2).
3. The bank may request customer to repay the required fund earlier than the settlement day or sell any of the securities without prior notice if the market value of the securities for margin fall below the required margin value.
