Where career paths meet inspiring journeys

Where business

meets balance

Joel, OPERATIONS

“I joined as a graduate in 2009, and my career hasn’t stopped moving since. I did a number of rotations across different parts of Operations, before starting my first permanent role. Then, when I felt like I needed something new, I moved into Risk. My three years there gave me a broader perspective and a better understanding of risk appetite and governance. I was able to bring that understanding back into a more senior role in Operations as we sought to re-build the Control function. Throughout, I have always had access to senior people. We are a relatively small global team and that shows in the way we build relationships, mentor and support one another.”

Where innovation

meets insight

Harshil, TECHNOLOGY

“I’ve worked at the Bank for 14 years, and every year has been a new challenge. At first, it was understanding the Commodities business, then how different technologies support our operations, which evolved to managing people and building teams. As my teams grew, we took on more asset classes. And now, having spent my career in Commodities, I’m looking after the Technology that supports FIC asset classes too. I’ve always been open-minded about my career path and I’m always looking for ways to progress people so they can take over from me. That mindset is vital if you want to take full advantage of the opportunities in a dynamic place like this.”

Where ambition

meets encouragement

Jayne, COMPLIANCE

“I joined the bank in 2015, left for a little while in between, and returned in 2020. Returning to ICBC Standard Bank has given me some incredible personal development opportunities. My manager put me forward for the inaugural year of the Emerging Leaders programme. I was lucky that the CEO was assigned as my sponsor, his approach signaled that he personally believes in investing in our people, he put in the time to have monthly calls with me – and never made me feel like my personal development was less of a priority.

The CEO was very accessible and was open minded to alternative views. They’re running the programme again this year and I’m acting as a sounding board for new members. Developing people takes time, energy and money. Schemes like this show that we want to invest in our people, and this makes me feel inspired to be a part of this institution.”

Where London

meets New York

Tom, GLOBAL MARKETS

“Our clients actively trade gold, silver, platinum, palladium and rhodium all day long, across the globe. I manage the flow books for those precious metals during New York hours. And I’m glad to say that my career has been almost as international as the markets I work in. My managers have always been super supportive. They helped me move from operations to trading and given me multiple opportunities to travel. In 2017, I moved to the London for four years. It was absolutely fantastic to live in a new city and travel around Europe on weekends.”

Where achievements meet rewards

Our rewards and benefits packages are benchmarked to each of the markets we work in, offering core benefits and additional perks that put your wellbeing first.

Key elements of your package could include:

Competitive fixed and variable pay

We seek to reward all our people in a manner that is fair and equitable, and aim to offer competitive remuneration in the global marketplace for skills. We promote effective teamwork to motivate strong and sustained performance within teams and we reward value on a pay for performance basis within the context of sustainability.

Hybrid working

On a discretionary basis, where it is deemed suitable following an assessment of the role, core tasks and location, the Bank offers its employees the opportunity, to work in a hybrid way (between the office and home).

Wellbeing and healthcare support

Our benefits and policies aim to put your wellbeing first - we have practical resources that offer our employees and their families support at significant times in their lives. We also support mental, physical and financial health and wellbeing initiatives throughout the year.

Enhanced family and parental leave

In all locations our family leave offerings are substantially in excess of the local statutory requirements.
